Located in the heart of Mancha Blanca, Casa Tinache is a 2-bedroom architectural residence that combines organic design, panoramic volcanic views, and certified sustainability. Completion July 2026. Built using a high-performance light timber frame system with ETICS external insulation, the home prioritizes energy efficiency, thermal comfort, and healthy indoor air quality. The bright open-plan living space is framed by floor-to-ceiling glazing and lift-and-slide doors, creating a seamless transition to the organically sculpted terrace. Landscaped exclusively with native species, the outdoor area features a heated Japanese-inspired rotenburo soaking pool — a contemplative bathing space immersed in Lanzarote's volcanic landscape....
