This emblematic hospitality complex is located in the traditional village of Yaiza, Lanzarote, and comprises an emblematic hotel and restaurant set within a beautifully restored historic property designed in the distinctive style inspired by César Manrique. The architecture reflects Lanzarote's identity through the use of natural materials, open spaces, and landscaped gardens that integrate harmoniously with the surrounding environment. The hotel features a reception hall and currently offers seven guest bedrooms, all with en-suite bathrooms, arranged to provide privacy and a tranquil guest experience. In addition, the complex includes an independent supplementary property with two bedrooms, providing further accommodation or operational...
